Target Audience

This conference is planned for an interdisciplinary audience of healthcare professionals.

Program Overview and Objectives

The 2016 West Virginia Geriatrics Society Scientific Assembly, “Helping Our Patients Make Decisions” is designed to enhance the care of the geriatric population in the end of life for physicians, nurses, pharmacists and social workers. This activity will address issues related to hospice care, palliative care, immunizations, statistics of care, and social and environmental needs of the geriatric community in an effort to improve geriatric care.

The Proposed content of the CME relates to the diversities seen in our state due to the rural nature of our state. This CME in line with the national American Geriatric Society will allow for the collaborative practice of all disciplines that are involved in Geriatric care of our state. We will increase the knowledge as well as discuss the potential ways the multiple disciplines can and should work together in their scopes of practice. After attending the Assembly attendees will be able to:

- ◆ Recognize when palliative care implementation is appropriate.
- ◆ Identify several areas where early palliative care is impactful to a patient
- ◆ Recognize when immunizations are appropriate
- ◆ Determine when it is appropriate timing for discussions about the end of life
- ◆ Recall cancer screening guidelines
- ◆ Determine when cancer treatment is and is not appropriate

Poster Competition

As part of the Scientific Assembly, WVGS is sponsoring its annual trainee poster competition. The winning poster presenter will receive an award stipend of up to $1,200.00 to attend the 2017 American Geriatrics Society (AGS) Meeting in San Antonio, Texas on May 18 - 20, 2017. If unable to submit the winning poster to AGS, the winner will receive $100.00. If the poster submission to AGS is completed and not accepted, the winner will receive $500.00.
