Lodge

Logan, WV

Sponsored by:
The West Virginia Rural Health Association

Jointly Provided by CAMC Health Education and Research Institute

Welcome

Dear Rural Health Conference Participants:

Welcome to the West Virginia Rural Health Conference! We will gather at Chief Logan Lodge in Chief Logan State Park for the 24th annual rural health conference. Here we will explore the theme “Mountains of Ideas: Innovations in Rural Health.” We will uncover strategies, approaches and resources to address the needs of rural communities.

We will hear from healthcare providers making the shift to patient-centered, whole person care and from non-profit organizations and researchers who partner with communities to provide core services throughout the state and region.

Let’s commit to sharing stories about how our work impacts young people and seniors, families, and individuals who are sometimes hard to reach and also to include those voices in future partnerships.

As a take away, be inspired. At the heart of our work with public health in West Virginia, there are hills and hollows that are easier to navigate with a motivated team. Let it be our aim to prepare the current and next generation adequately.

Sincerely,

24th Annual West Virginia Rural Health Conference

24th Annual West Virginia Rural Health Conference

About the Conference

The goal of the West Virginia Rural Health Conference is to provide attendees with updates regarding rural health issues on both the state and national levels. Attendees will be provided with learning tools to assist in carrying out best practices in the community and will have an opportunity to network with peers facing similar challenges.

With support from the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation, Logan Healthcare Foundation, Bernard McDonough Foundation and other generous sponsors, the conference gathers individuals and groups interested in the health of rural residents for two and one half informative days of learning and networking. The 2016 conference agenda is the collaborative result of statewide partners seeking the best speakers to address current topics of interest.

Please join us at Chief Logan Lodge, located at Chief Logan State Park in Logan, West Virginia, as we continue our efforts to assure improved access to quality health care for the citizens of West Virginia.

Intended Audience

The broad range of conference sessions will be of interest to allied health professionals, physicians, nurses, dentists, physician assistants, pharmacists, social workers, attorneys, academicians, students from a variety of health professions, government officials, business and community leaders, community extension agents, community planners, community health care volunteers, non-profits and individuals interested in community development.

A conference registration form is included. Additional registration forms are available on the web at <http://www.wvrha.org>.

Conference Objectives

- Discuss information regarding best practices across the state and nation for improving the provision of rural health care for all citizens of West Virginia;
- Identify population management, leadership and workforce challenges as well, increasing recruitment and retention;
- Describe how to use the WV Health Data Portal available on the West Virginia Rural Health Association's web page <http://www.wvrha.org>;
- Identify best practices centered on rural health workforce and emerging issues relevant to rural health; and
- Discuss further collaboration across all levels of health systems and rural health infrastructure.

Special Events

CONFERENCE RECEPTION

The West Virginia Rural Health Association invites attendees to a reception on the first day of the conference celebrating the opening of the 24th Annual West Virginia Rural Health Conference. The event will be held on Wednesday, October 19, 2016 from 5:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. in the Chief Logan Lodge Lobby.

SILENT AUCTION

The West Virginia Rural Health Association will host the 12th Annual Silent Auction in the Logan Room. The auction opens Wednesday and closes Thursday evening. Successful bids must be paid for and items picked up on Friday morning. Proceeds support West Virginia Rural Health Association activities, advocacy and programs. Please plan to visit and place a bid on your favorite items.

RURAL RESEARCH POSTER DISPLAY

A student/resident rural research poster display will be held in the lobby of the Chief Logan Lodge on October 19, 2016. Researchers will be with their posters and available to address attendees on Wednesday afternoon between 4:00 – 7:00 p.m. Student/resident oral presentations will be Wednesday, October 19, 2016 from 4:15 – 5:15 p.m.

ROUND ROBIN TENNIS EVENT

Whether you are a beginner or seasoned veteran, the WVRHC Round Robin Tennis event is for you. Join us to have some fun, play some doubles tennis and enjoy refreshments on Thursday, October 20th at 6:30 pm at the Chief Logan Indoor Tennis Courts.

WV Rural Health Association Membership

The West Virginia Rural Health Association (WVRHA) is a non-profit, grassroots, member-driven organization whose mission is to serve as an advocate for preserving and improving the health care status of all rural citizens through education and effective communication.

WVRHA's current memberships include a variety of stakeholders interested in the health of rural West Virginians. Becoming a member of WVRHA will serve to broaden the base of power and heighten the sphere of influence a single stakeholder would normally have.

WVRHA will be holding a membership drive during the conference. If you are interested in joining WVRHA or updating your membership, please visit the WV Rural Health Association staff at the registration desk during the conference. Additional information about the WVRHA can be found at <http://www.wvrha.org>.

Sponsor & Exhibitor Opportunities

The West Virginia Rural Health Association is seeking organizations and individuals to partner and/or exhibit at the 24th Annual West Virginia Rural Health Conference. The conference offers an excellent opportunity for providers, policymakers and community leaders to meet and develop cost-effective initiatives for delivering quality health care to rural residents. With the support of devoted partners and exhibitors, this conference gathers rural health stakeholders for two and one-half exciting and informative days of learning and networking.

Your organization's support allows us to provide a forum for discussion of rural health policy issues and the opportunity to network with fellow rural health advocates. Rural health experts from both state and national arenas conduct a variety of timely sessions, each offering diverse points of view and opportunities for discussion. Please refer to the pages on partner and exhibitor opportunities.

The Alcove offers participants the opportunity to meet a wide variety of vendors of health care industry products and services. Breaks will be held inside the exhibit area to facilitate conversation in a relaxed atmosphere for visiting with sponsors and friends.

For non-profit groups, there will be a free unattended display table in the exhibit area for distribution of printed materials.
